Danger

Authorities identify cyanide-tainted site

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The United States Environmental Protection Agency has identified "an imminent and substantial endangerment to the public health and welfare and the environment" due to cyanide-tainted plastic film chips abandoned in 17 semi-trailers and two roll-off boxes behind Van Dusen Airport Services at 10100 Harrison Road, The Associated Newspapers has learned.

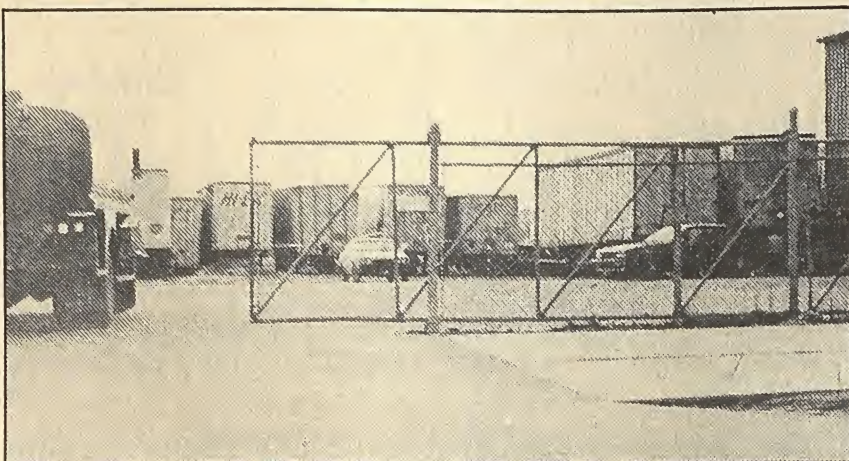

In a letter sent to Mayor Beverly McAnally and Wayne County Executive William Lucas dated March 12, 1985, Robert Buckley, Eastern Response Unit Chief of the EPA stated that "PBM Enterprises (which formerly leased the building) operated a silver reclaiming business from about January of 1982 to December 1984. They extracted silver from X-ray film chips by soaking them in a cyanide solution."

According to Buckley, PBM was found to be in violation of several regulations and was issued an order of violation on Oct. 12, 1984, in an effort to get the owners to properly dispose of the hazardous waste they generated.

PBM then apparently abandoned approximately 1.5 million pounds of cyanide-tainted film chips in 17 semi-trailers and two roll-off boxes on the property, which has since been leased to Van Dusen Airport Services.

A Romulus police report dated May 14, 1983, shows that a complaint was filed at that time by a neighboring businessman who, after seeing a blue ash-like substance pile up, discovered it was probably cyanide. The man was concerned because it blew onto his property with the wind.

Dr. Peter Warner of the Wayne County Pollution Control Commission was brought in to check the substance. He advised that the pile--then six feet long and 80 feet long--contained less than one percent cyanide, which was "being emitted as hydrogen cyanide gas," a potential health hazard to "children or other people entering the area where it is stored and being overcome by the gas."

The material was then covered for a time before being stored in the trailers in late 1983.

Last Friday, McAnally held "an emergency task force meeting" involving various department heads as well as the fire and police chiefs. "Upon hearing about this situation, I called everyone together to work out a plan of action," McAnally said. "Until I had received the letter, I was not aware such conditions existed in Romulus, and I'm extremely upset about it, not just the condition, but also the fact that neither my fire chief nor I were aware of it," McAnally said, adding that "if a fire had broken out, we would not have known to take extra precautions, and that scares me."

The EPA report states that "fire, police, or others responding to an emergency (at 10100 Harrison) should be aware of the sodium cyanide on the plastic film chips. If a small fire breaks out, an honest attempt may be made to contain the blaze, but if the fire spreads, you may want to evacuate the area."

"Cyanide gas may also be present under normal conditions in some of the closed trailers. Pooled liquids from trailer leakage may be caustic or contain high levels of cyanide... the trailers themselves may not be structurally sound and may burst or collapse," Buckley warned.

The owner of the property, attorney William Matakas, says that he "has never been contacted directly by the EPA or the Department of Natural Resources (DNR)," and added that he has taken PBM to court to "get my site cleared and usable." The case is currently pending.

"I had received a call from one of the principals of PBM that they had obtained the proper permits to take the stuff out of there, get it treated, and then an Ohio firm was going to take the waste down there to be buried or whatever, but that was supposed to have started last week and I haven't heard from him again," Matakas said.

In his letter, Buckley added that "you (McAnally) should be aware of the fire potential and threat to the public that such spills may cause, especially in light of the hazardous wastes stored on-site," and asked that the EPA would appreciate any fire safety assistance the city of Romulus might be able to provide in case of an emergency.

But Matakas contends that he was at Romulus City Hall as late as October, to get permits for Van Dusen to take up occupancy of the building.

"And, when you apply, I let them know what was being stored there. You can't hide it, the trailers are right out there. I made no attempt to hide the fact, and, when I contacted the EPA to insure that there was no danger to another tenant, they told me as long as no one went in the trailers, everything was OK," Matakas said. "The EPA told me there was no risk, and that was the last I heard about it until someone from the Romulus fire department called me last Thursday and Friday."

Contacted in his Grosse Isle office, Buckley said Monday that "it's probably a small chance that something could go wrong there (on Harrison Road), but it is a possibility. The trailers are marked and locked, and the percentage of the cyanide is low--maybe 15 pounds total."

"They use a very similar substance in electro-plating automobiles, and there it's brought in pure in 55-gallon drums. The big difference, though, is that there, they have someone watching the activity and supervising the care of it, while on Harrison Road they don't."

"We know how to treat the material to make it fairly innocuous, the big problem is, you need warm temperatures to do it, which would make it very expensive at this time of year."

According to Buckley, the EPA Superfund has already begun activities at the site. "What we are pursuing now is a completion of the paperwork," Buckley said. "Next will be the signing of an action memorandum."

McAnally said she hopes to soon unveil "emergency plans" for the Harrison Road area and other potentially hazardous sites around the city.

"I'd rather be on the side of being too cautious than on the side of not being cautious enough," McAnally said.

Time for renewal Schools seek yes vote on taxes

BY STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Voters in both Romulus and Huron Township will go to the polls on Monday, March 25, to decide--at least in part--the fate of their school systems.

In Romulus, the ballot is for a nine-mill renewal, which would mean "no extra taxes, just the same as it's been in the past," according to Romulus School Superintendent Dr. William Bedell.

"This renewal means a lot to us, and we're very hopeful the Romulus voters will come out and cast their vote Monday."

"We've kept out promise to the taxpayers who voted us the increase last year," Bedell said. "We've revived our sixth hour classes so students receive six full hours of instruction a day, computer instruction is now taking place in the elementary schools, librarians have been hired and libraries reopened in the elementary schools, roofs in the schools are in the process of being replaced and physical education, music and art have been added at the elementary school level."

Bedell added that the district has "arrived at equitable collective bargaining agreements with all but one of our labor organizations," but that one is a big one--the teachers.

Contract talks are currently ongoing, but not much progress has been made, according to Bedell.

"I've said it before and I'll say it again, we will bargain with them and we will continue to make offers to them, but we will not go to lengths great enough that would make us ask for another increase and I refuse to cut any of the programs for the kids. We're just getting the Romulus schools back on track, and we aren't going to cut back on our kids now," Bedell said.

In Huron Township, Superintendent Gary Jackson is looking for a five-year renewal of 18.8 mills and an increase of 6.75 mills to cover a cut in state funding.

"It would eliminate what will otherwise be an outstanding deficit and provide a six-hour day for all of our students, not just the 25 percent of senior high students that get it now."

Jackson is hoping for a large turnout.

"I think we'll need between 2,000 and 2,500 voters at the polls to win. Hopefully, people will come out. Usually, it's a very small minority controlling the majority."

Jackson added that "this isn't a luxury, this is something we dearly need to keep our schools open and at a decent level."

In Romulus, Bedell is also looking for a big turnout, saying "usually, on millage issues you need a large turnout at the polls, because of the group that always go to vote against millage proposals. But, this is a renewal. Hopefully, the voters will have seen us keeping our promises to them and will return the favor by passing the renewal."

Huron names Ashby

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The Huron Township Board of Trustees has voted to make Trustee Fred Ashby the township's police commissioner. The vote was 4-2, with clerk Vicki Lyons and treasurer Christine Gamber dissenting, and Ashby abstaining.

The Huron Township Police Department has been a source of controversy for years, with alleged "backstabbing" and power jockeying reportedly the norm.

Ashby, whose brother and nephew are on the force, acknowledged the problems during a discussion before the vote, saying "I'm not Oral Roberts--I can't just walk in there, put my hand on something and say 'heal.' If you (the board) want a good police department, you're going to have to work at it."

"If (someone on the force) has a problem, let's see if I can help, and if I can't, then let's send it to the board and see if they can," Ashby said.

According to the resolution,

150th celebration set

The Romulus Sesquicentennial Committee is putting the finishing touches on its plans for the Founders Day activities, which will be held on Saturday, March 30.

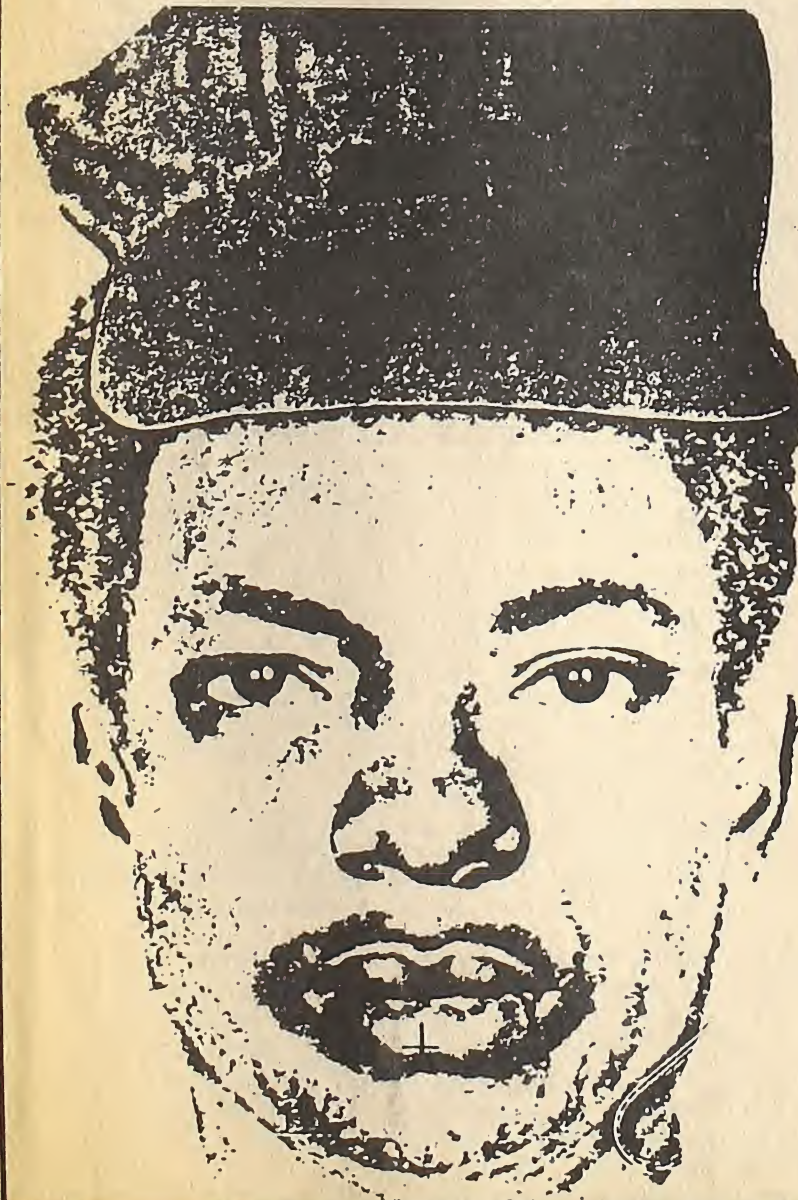

The day will begin with a flag raising ceremony at Kennedy Park and then move next door to the Wesleyan Methodist Church for the remainder of the ceremonies.

The ceremony will begin at noon and will feature a gun salute and the release of 150 balloons to honor the occasion.

The Founders Day Dance will be held later that evening at the Progressive Club on Ozga Road, beginning at 8 p.m.

Murder suspect sought

Romulus police have released the accompanying composite drawing of the man suspected of slaying Keith Blazer, 29, of Plymouth, who was found shot to death last Monday morning in a ditch in Romulus.

It is thought that Blazer was not killed where he was found, but that his body was dumped there after he had been shot repeatedly.

According to police, the victim was last seen in Inkster between 11:30 p.m. and 1 a.m. at both Bogarts and Henry VIII's Lounge. He was accompanied by a black male, approximately 20 years old, wearing a waist-length dark blue or black jacket, blue pants and a brown cap.

Witnesses say he was clean-shaven, neat, and appeared friendly. Both the victim and the suspect talked and visited with a number of persons at both bars, Romulus Det. Sgt. David Early said.

Between 1 a.m. and 1:30 a.m. the victim's car was seen at Van Born and Middlebelt being driven by the suspect. According to police, the victim was slouched down in the passenger seat.

Anyone with information or who may recognize the suspect should contact the Romulus Police Department at 941-8400.

Good and the bad

by TOM MOORADIAN

For two very good reasons police officers are very guarded when they speak to newspapers: First, what they say lead to a lawsuit; secondly they fear — like most ordinary people — that they will be misquoted.

But, those assigned to the police beat by their editors know, that without police and fire officials' cooperation, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to cover the beat. Few weekly newspapers — and a lot of small dailies — have the luxury of assigning one reporter to a police station.

Most of the laborious task by the reporter is done via telephone. And a reporter is on a precarious foothold if he should "mess up" even on one police story. His source at the police station usually will not "be available" the next time the reporter calls.

Most cub reporters learn quickly that one of the roughest beats to cover is police. Even when all the facts are correct, names used in connection with a police story suddenly come alive, in fact, usually rush into the newsroom and demand "retractions" or ask "Why the hell did you write this?"

There usually is no crevices around for the writer to disappear into.

Most politicians want newspapers "to write only positive stories about their communities" and if that should ever happen, our society, the way we know it today would soon vanish and become obsolete.

The Press has a responsibility to give its readers the tools to help keep it free.

If I may borrow a quote from a recent speech by Alvah Chapman, Chairman and Chief Officer of Knight-Ridder Newspapers, Inc. on the responsibilities of a newspaper, he says that:

"The mission of our American newspapers, simply stated, is to give our readers the vital, often complex information, needed so that as citizens they are better equipped and prepared to perpetuate their freedoms."

And, before we wrap up this week's edition, a salute to Romulus High's Terry Mills is in order.

Terry, the lanky 6-9 junior who was the mainstay of Coach Al Wilkerson's basketball team, was recently named to the prestigious Parade Magazine's All-American High School Basketball Team.

Mills, who still has a year of high school eligibility ahead of him, has accomplished at this point what his uncle, Johnny Long, failed to do. Long, a Romulus all-stater, who went on to star at the University of Detroit and is a member of the Detroit Pistons, failed to get All-American recognition as a high school player.

Terry was one of 44 players across the nation who were named to Parade's elite line-up. He contributed an average of 25-points plus per game, 10-plus rebounds and slapped away at least five shots per during his recent campaign.

One shivers to think what would have happened to the Eagles if Mills had not been in their line-up this year. And one can only smile about what Terry and the Eagles will accomplish a year from now.

Pilot error is blamed for '84 crash

5 passengers sustained minor injuries

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The National Transportation Safety Board has concluded that the June 13, 1984, crash of a USAir DC9 at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, which slightly injured five passengers, was the fault of the pilot, 57-year-old Arthur Sanderhoff.

The report also stated that neither the flight crew nor the air traffic controllers worked well to prevent the crash landing.

Last July, the NTSB held a two-day hearing in Romulus to discuss the circumstances and make a report. Present were representatives from the board, the pilot and first officer of the downed plane, air traffic controllers and representatives from the National Weather Service.

At the time, questions that seemed to relate to competency were aimed at Capt. Sanderhoff. Dr. Barry Strauch, who sat on the board as "human performance specialist," read from an April report regarding Sanderhoff's efficiency training and refresher course that he (Sanderhoff) was "poorly prepared."

The pilot countered by stating he had been "intimidated" by the instructor and asked to be taken out of the class, something which Captain James Fogarty, the Director of flight Training for USAir, said was "not common, but did happen from time to time. There are occasional personal-ity clashes," he said.

Second day testimony centered on the traffic controller that was on duty that night, Amanda Wilcox, as well as an expert in the field, Walter Wasielewski, Supervisory Air Traffic Control Specialist at Metro Airport.

According to testimony, a thunderstorm had quickly moved onto the airport grounds, causing Wilcox to send out an onair broadcast of vision being good for two miles, but changing that to one mile less than a minute later and quickly to one-quarter mile. Only the two-mile was broadcast, the others were announced "in-house," in the control tower.

A representative from USAir questioned Wilcox after the board did, asking her if she had been advised of the heavy rain outside.

"I knew it was raining. No one advised me," she said. When asked if she knew it was raining extremely heavy, she replied "no."

Sanderhoff had also stated that had he been aware that large hail was pelting the runway in high winds, he would not have attempted to land at that time. He had no such warning, he stated, and officials from the National Weather Service testified that the storm that night intensified very quickly, and that there had not been time to call extra personnel as was procedure during storms.

When he hit a wind shear, said Sanderhoff, "it was as if something was pushing down on the plane ... I knew contact with the ground was imminent."

Having a ball

What was hoped would become an annual event back in 1973 continues to be a tradition for the Belleville Kiwanis Club which staged its 13th annual "President's Ball" recently. Don Meyer who served as the Kiwanis president in 1973, and his wife, Jean, (at left) were welcomed at the first ball by Bob and Betty Tontalo and the foursome got together to repeat the ceremonies

'We build'

Kiwanians set their goals

When they first staged their President's Ball in March of 1973, Kiwanis Club member now Mayor of Belleville, Bob Tontalo, told Kiwanis president, Don Meyer, "This should become an annual affair."

And it has.

For 13 years Kiwanians have gathered to honor their president and reaffirm their vow to help others and build better understanding between nations and men.

Recently, the Kiwanians held their 13th annual President's Ball "and the party was just one huge success," said Meyer. "And I want to thank everyone who came and those who took part in organizing it. And we all appreciated the beautifully decorated hall and the floral arrangements, the work of Juanita Graf and her group."

The Kiwanis Club obviously is more than parties and luncheons. It is a viable organization made "up of people of all walks of life." The Belleville-Van Buren-Sumpter Charter has been in existence since 1946 and presently boasts 26 active members.

"Our motto is 'We Build'," points out Meyer, "and we are involved in a lot of community projects. This year we donated money to the city so that they can purchase swing sets specifically for the handicapped."

Meyer, who has the unique distinction of being the only member to hold the club's highest office, that of president, twice, said that people join the club because they "sincerely have a desire to help others."

Kiwanians meet every Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Tin Lizzie Restaurant, I-94 Expressway and Belleville Road.

"We are involved in a wide range of projects presently," Meyer added. "And we continue to expand our present programs. Those programs include:

- Offering a scholarship to a Belleville High senior;
- Sending students to Boys and Girls State;
- Sponsoring a youth for the Law Enforcement seminar; Hugh O'Brien Foundation and Christian Athlete Seminar;

- Suiting up several Little League baseball teams for local summer leagues.

"And, before I forget would you please mention that everyone enjoyed dancing to the Tom Rowe band from Dundee — I don't want to forget anyone," said Meyer.

Kiwanians: they're thoughtful and respectful of people's thoughts and feelings.

A successful season

It has been an exceptional basketball season for several schools and athletes in western Wayne County.

Wayne Memorial, Romulus, Robichaud and Inkster high schools are among the schools to have captured league championships or state district titles during the 1984-85 campaign. The Zebras of Wayne and the Vikings of Inkster established new school records for consecutive victories in the process while Robichaud still retains hopes of capturing a state crown as the annual March Madness, also known as the state basketball tournament, nears completion.

Of course, quality athletic teams feature quality athletes and coaches. A number of local cagers will be rewarded for their prowess on the court with college scholarships while others will simply have fond memories of their prep athletic careers. In either case, the experience of competition and teamwork cannot be minimized as a positive element in the total high school education.

Many are concerned with the image of their community, especially its perception in the eyes of the general public. Accentuate the positive, they plead. Residents of a community need to feel that their neighborhood and their city is a good place to live, work and rear a family.

Vote 'Yes' on millage

Voters in the Romulus and Huron Township school districts will go to the polls next Monday to ballot on critical millage issues.

In Romulus, citizens will be asked to approve a nine-mill renewal proposition while Huron voters will decide the fate of two proposals, an 18.8 mill renewal and a 6.75 mill addition for a five-year period.

We have steadfastly maintained that a strong school system provides the backbone of a strong community. The education of our youth is not an issue that can be measured in dollars and cents. Property owners who are upset with taxation must not take out such frustration on the local school district, a sit-

So how does a community achieve and maintain a positive image? By developing a positive attitude and self esteem about what is happening in their local environment and building upon those feelings.

The accomplishments of a community's residents help provide the impetus for a positive image. It is extremely critical that the young persons in a community, the leaders of tomorrow, set the pace for such a positive environment.

We salute the exploits of local athletes as one example of a positive aspect of a progressive school system, which must be judged by its commitment to a total, well-rounded education for all students. We particularly commend the achievements of Terry Mills, a junior at Romulus High School, who recently was named to the Parade Magazine All American Basketball Team.

Mills' accomplishments on the basketball court not only are a source of pride to his family, they also shed a positive light on the entire Romulus community.

To Terry Mills and all area cagers, we extend our congratulations for a job well done. Despite the final scores, local athletes continue to make a positive contribution to their communities. In that regard, there are no losers, only winners.

ting target for the disgruntled taxpayers.

School officials in both Romulus and Huron Township have exhibited fiscal integrity in the school operations to date. In Romulus, the requested millage represents 20 percent of the operational tax base; the last renewal ratification occurred in 1979.

Judging from previous school millage elections, only a small percentage of voters will take the time to cast their ballot next Monday. We hope that those who do participate in the election process are far-sighted in their judgement.

The millage issues in Romulus and Huron Township deserve support. We urge voters to say YES to education next Monday.

Lesson in reading

To the Editor:

I feel that congratulations are in order to the Wayne County Reading Council and the Wayne Intermediate School District for sponsoring the "Readers Meet Readers Day" at the Westland Mall on March 2. What a super way to turn kids on to reading, and to the world of books.

It was with great pride that I worked with the teachers, learning consultants, parents and students of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools. It was exciting seeing people giving of their time on a Saturday for the benefit of kids. It was enjoyable watching the children's eyes sparkle as they saw Mr. Fig, The Cat and the Hat and other storybook characters come to life. It was encouraging to see parents spending their time with their children playing games, watching them perform and partaking in the excitement of the day.

A special thanks to the parents, teachers and children of Elliott School, who took time to help make the event a real celebration of reading.

With such a launching of Celebrate Reading Month, how can children help but get excited about reading? Let's keep that enthusiasm going as the children follow through with their March reading calendars at home and at school. Wayne-Westland students will truly "Sail Along With Reading."

No birthday wish

To the Editor:

As a surprise for dad's 52nd birthday, we decided to have a "French Maid" wish him a Happy Birthday while he was bowling at Town & Country Lanes on Friday, March 1, at 11:30 p.m.

What a waste of money. After coming all the way from Warren, she was informed it was not allowed as of last September. (The girl herself had been there twice since that time!)

We were told that the guy behind the counter should have been asked for permission first. There are no signs posted anywhere, but the man would not give in. He was VERY rude to everyone who tried to talk to him. He will definitely not be a candidate for Mr. Personality!

His main reason was because of the children there. At midnight they should be home in BED!

The TV teaches them much more than they would have seen there. Besides that - who does he think they make their money from? Adults or the kids?

It was a very disappointing and costly experience for not thinking to ask "May I?"

Unknown citizen

To the Editor:

On Thursday, February 28, 1985 at approximately 8:45 a.m. a citizen described as a white male, approximately middle 50's, wearing a burgandy corduroy wool coat and beige london fog hat stopped to assist at a motor vehicle accident, which occurred on Ecorse Road.

The vehicle involved had rolled over onto its roof in a ditch with one to two feet of water. Per Officer Eric Painter, the white male assisted in removing a twenty-one (21) year old mother, a two (2) year old girl and an eight (8) month old boy from the vehicle.

The unknown citizen was possibly driving a light blue GM product. He left the scene before police arrived after determining everyone was alright. He left his coat with the mother to keep her warm.

Vehicle was east bound on Ecorse Road when it hit an icy patch and lost control.

We would like to identify this driver and extend the thanks and appreciation of all parties concerned.

Genesis

When does something begin? I guess that question is revelant to all that is, or ever was.

This same query is being dealt with in courts across the land, in legislatures, in laboratories and amidst serious studies by scientists and researchers in all fields.

At what stage of maturation is a fetus considered legally and morally the beginning of a human being with rights of its own? When did the obliteration of the dinosaurs that once roamed the earth start? Do we date our "discovery" as a nation from Columbus when he "sailed the ocean blue in 1492?" How about from Leif Ericson's now accepted exploratory adventures. Or perhaps the beginning should be counted from the date of other adventurers landing on the continent which are yet to be documented.

The year is 1985 . . . or is it? Nineteen hundred and eighty five years ago, supposedly, Christ was born and thus the dating of our years, A.D. (anno domini). Yet scholars place the date within a range of years, unable to accurately pinpoint the time.

We formerly thought of Henry Ford's excursion down a Detroit street in a gasoline-powered contraption as the birth of the automobile. Today we acknowledge that many unsung inventors heralded the dawn of the automobile industry of today.

Sometimes the beginning is simply of interest even though it may have little bearing on any of us today . . . like Paul Harris founding "Rotary International" in Chicago or the launching of the Republican party long ago in Jackson, Michigan.

If we are amidst a significant change in our culture, than when it started and how far along we are into the change is more of note. Such is perhaps the case in the move to computers as an inherent part of the everyday business world. The beginning date may be elusive -- just as the exact beginning of the industrial revolution or the iron age.

There are situations when the exact beginning is of utmost importance -- in medicine, for example. The when of the onset of symptoms, or the exact time a child was bitten by a rabid dog can be a life and death matter.

A specialist in forensic medicine can aid the police investigation of a murder, and in fact, have a significant impact in a trial of an accused assailant, by knowing, through science, exactly when certain injuries occurred.

Divorce trials attempt to determine who did what to whom and when it "first" began.

The Soviet Union now has an opportunity for a new dawn with its new leader Mikhail Gorbachev. Unfortunately, the only dawn I fear the Soviets are pursuing is a "Red Dawn." Beginnings are a factor in the consequence of most matters -- and worthy of attention.

On a more personal level, I've marveled at procrastinators who go through life waiting to begin. Others wait for someone else to begin so that they can then start. Sometimes they wait for something that has already occurred but which they failed to recognize or acknowledge. Christians believe the savior for which Jews are waiting has long since arrived.

If you've heard someone of prominence being interviewed by the media, they are invariably asked, "How did you get your start?" or "What got you started?" Someone or something seems always to have served as a catalyst.

But what of ideas, I wonder. Where do brilliant ideas come from? What is it that is planted that germinates into an invention such as the telephone, typewriter or computer? It's said that necessity is the mother of invention. If that is so, what then motivated Bach, Mozart, Hemingway or Einstein?

The processes, I concluded, must not be

Liquor license considered flying solo

By ROSE MARY REIZ
ANP Staff Writer

Consideration of a liquor license transfer to the Center Stage nightclub has been postponed until a hearing is held next week to decide whether to revoke the club's existing license.

The Canton clerk's office sent notices of a March 26 public hearing to 750 residents who live near the facility, which is leased for concerts and used as a teenage club two nights a week.

"A lot of residents have expressed concerns about problems with the club," Clerk Linda Chuhran explained. "The purpose of the hearing is to give residents a chance to voice those concerns and the board an opportunity to listen to both the residents and business owner and make a decision that's best for the community."

Center Stage owner John Sassak last month appeared before the Canton board to request that the club's license be transferred to his name.

Sassak, who bought the club last year after the previous owners filed for bankruptcy, was criticized during the meeting by neighbors who said teenage crowds who use his club create a public nuisance.

The board at that time asked Sassak to return with documentation showing his efforts to minimize problems and outlining future plans for the facility.

At last week's meeting, a Lotz Road resident gave board members copies of a petition signed by neighbors objecting to issuance of the license transfer.

Sassak was again asked by board members to furnish documentation of his plans.

"I've asked what you are planning to do in order to minimize the negative impact on the neighborhood," Trustee Robert Padgett told the club owner. "If you cannot put in writing how you intend to manage that business, then I question your ability to manage it."

Supervisor James Poole recommended that Center Stage's current license, scheduled for automatic renewal unless board action is taken before May 1, be reviewed at next Tuesday's hearing.

Should the existing license be revoked, Sassak must apply to the Liquor Control Commission for a new license for the establishment.

dissimilar to the search for an idea about which to write a column. It seems that sometimes the trigger is a chance remark, a casual conversation, a just-read magazine article or a recent speech. The subject matter may be entirely different, but nevertheless, it acts as the trigger. Suddenly, BANG! VOILA! a new line or thought, combined with other random thoughts into a new mixture of ideas.

Every book has a beginning and so does every thought, every idea, every invention or composition. What if such creative minds such as Handel, Shakespeare or DiVinci had refused to allow themselves to begin? Suppose they had said no to the seeds of an idea or concept? Then the world would remain deprived of the joy, beauty and benefit of their genius.

Perhaps today, in the world, there exists another Pasteur, Chopin, Edison, Emerson or Picasso. They wait to be released . . . set free from their own self-imposed confinement.

The world cries out for creative minds to provide solutions to the myriad of problems that threaten the very existence of mankind. Perhaps we should all strive to set free the creativity within ourselves, and more importantly, within our young. Perhaps through them mankind can one day see a new genesis.

See you next week.

Morons in Lansing?

To the Editor:

Do we have morons representing us in Lansing? The last in a list of asinine bills to become law is 8999 which prohibits the sale of x-rated video cassettes.

What next big brother?

Of course the Pandora's box will make a black market in these cassettes a certainty.

This reminds me of a few years ago when Van Buren Township banned box elder trees.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to DYNALABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U-21) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can order by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly sent. Please don't wait. Robichaud captures regional cage crown
Bulldogs clash with Benedictine tonight at EMU in quarterfinals

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Overcoming some early apprehensions, Dearborn Heights Robichaud rallied from a 10-2 deficit and came back to overpower Southgate Aquinas, 84-66 to capture its first Class B Regional Basketball Championship in the school's history.

Coach Bill Ayler's cagers advance to the state quarterfinals tonight to take on Detroit Benedictine at Bowen Fieldhouse, Eastern Michigan University, in Ypsilanti.

"Benedictine has a lot of talent," said Coach Ayler whose Bulldogs will take a 20-4 won-lost record into tonight's confrontation. "And, we also have a lot of respect for them. But we will play our game as we have all year long."

The winner of the quarterfinal game will qualify for the state semi-finals scheduled for Friday night in Ann Arbor.

Down by a score of 10-2 against a tough Southgate Aquinas team, Robichaud found itself struggling for survival early in the regional showdown. Ayler decided on a time-out, and changed defensive strategy, shelving the man-to-man to a full-court press that eventually paid off.

game high 30 points in that opening period.

In command of a 22-10 lead at the end of the first period, score their regional rivals 17-12 and 26-24 the final two periods.

"Our victory was definitely a team effort," said Coach Ayler. "We became aggressive after those sluggish opening few minutes, and defensively we were able to adjust to what they (Aquinas) were attempting.

Galbraith connected on 14 field goals and made two of two from the free throw line for his 30 points. It was the fifth time this season that the 6-0 senior guard had hit 30 or better points. Teammates Jarvis Walker and Dennis McIntosh contributed 15 and 14 points, respectively, while Joe Ballard also was in double figures with 14.

Aquinas received an exceptional performance from its 6-5 forward, Damon Pidwell who fired in 11 field goals and made four of four at the foul line for a team high 26. Also in double figures for the downriver club were Gerald Clark, with 18, and Mike Sulack, with 13.

Wayne wastes Flowers' 29 pts. as S'Western eliminates Zebras, 73-62

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Not even an extraordinary performance by Wayne Memorial's 6-2 senior forward Howard Flowers could stem the tide and stop Detroit Southwestern in the first round of the Class A Regional Basketball Playoffs staged last Wednesday at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Fieldhouse.

Flowers kept the Zebras in the midst of the battle until the very end when Southwestern, the PSL champ, sealed a 73-62 victory to eliminate Wayne and qualify for the finals. The Prospectors went on to beat Garden City which, in turn, had defeated Ypsilanti 60-59 in overtime in their first round, to capture the regional basketball championship.

"I'm disappointed — you're always disappointed when you lose," said Wayne Memorial coach Chuck Henry, "but I feel our kids played an exceptional game and can hold their heads high. They have nothing to be ashamed of in the loss. We are all proud of them."

The loss brought the curtains down on a record season for Coach Henry and his Zebras. They captured their first Wolverine "A" Conference championship and also set a Wayne record for most wins in a single season at 21. (They finished 21-2). The previous best was 16 victories established in 1961.

Flowers, Pollis Robertson and Mark Robinson formed the nucleus of Wayne's offensive attack. Flowers connected on 12 of 24 from the floor and canned three of four from the free throw line for a game high 29 points. He also accounted for nine rebounds.

Closely-watched and double-teamed most of the evening, Robertson managed five field goals and made all four of his charities for 14 points. Robinson picked up 10 points, the only other Wayne cager scoring in two figures.

The Prospectors got 17 from Terrance Wheeler and 16 from guard Johnny Slater.

Wayne kept the outcome of the game in doubt right down to the final seconds. Trailing 15-2 at the end of the initial period, the Zebras stayed abreast thanks to their multiple-defenses and timely baskets from Flowers and Robertson. However, midway in the second period, the Prospectors built up a 11 point lead (27-16) before Wayne ripped off 10 unanswered points, coming within three (33-30) of catching up at intermission.

The Prospectors' ability to hit the perimeter jump shots frustrated the Zebras and inevitably led to Wayne's doom.

"We shot the ball well from the outside," said Prospect Coach Perry Watson. "But I have to give this Wayne team a lot of credit. They never quit and continued to come back. When we thought we had them, they would come right back."

Southwestern edged Wayne 16-15 in the third quarter with Flowers providing the key baskets. The Prospectors held on to the four-point cushion most of the fourth period.

"We were down by four with three minutes left," Henry noted, "and they went into a delay, so we tried the full-court press. We committed some fouls and they capitalized on the situation."

With 30 seconds to go, however, and trailing by two (47-45), Wayne had an opportunity to tie the score but gave up the ball via a turnover. It was one of 20 miscues for the Zebras. Southwestern committed 21.

Slater, returning to the line-up after a bout with the flu, proved deadly in the clutch as he made eight of 12 shots — five in-a-row in the fourth quarter — to give the PSL champs the crucial victory.

Garden City, which got by Ypsilanti, 60-59, in overtime proved to be no match for the Prospectors who buried the Cougars 84-45 Saturday night to win the regional and advance to the state quarter-finals against Lansing Eastern Wednesday night at Charlotte.

Cheering them on

When he isn't busy coaching, Chuck Henry is cheering his Zebras on to victory. Above, he's applauding a successful play - and there were many in this record season for the Zebras who won 22 of their 24 games this year. Wayne brought the curtains down on the 1984-85 campaign last Wednesday at Eastern Michigan University where PSL champion, Detroit Southwestern, claimed a 73-62 victory over the Zebras in the first round of the Class A Regional Championships. Southwestern went on to bury Garden City on Saturday to claim the title and qualify for the state quarter-finals.

Doug Tolson

Tolson repeats as All-American

Ex-Wayne runner stars at Tennessee

Doug Tolson, former Wayne Memorial all-state distance runner, has earned All-American recognition for the second consecutive year as a member of the University of Tennessee's track team.

Tolson, a 5-10, 140-pound senior who hails from Westland, has developed into one of the top distance runners in the nation, and recently successfully defended his 1984 SEC three-mile indoor title with a victory at this year's conference meet.

Tolson also placed third in the 1984 SEC outdoor 5,000-meter race with a time of 14:26.97. He finished sixth in the 10,000-meter and became the first University of Tennessee distance runner to win the SEC and the NCAA District III

Individual titles (1984).

Tennessee however recently finished second to Arkansas at the NCAA indoor championships staged March 9-10 in Syracuse, New York.

"Doug is considered one of the finest young athletes ever to wear a Tennessee track jersey," Vols' coaching reports state. "He's an extremely hard worker and devoted to getting the job done."

Tolson's accomplishments include:

- Became the only athlete in SEC track and field history to participate on 12 conference championship teams;
- Earned cross-country All-American honors both junior (26th in NCAA) and senior (29th in NCAA) seasons;

- Credited with the Vols' top 500-meter time (14:03.2);
- Also turned in UT's best 10,000 meter mark (29:04.78) at the 1984 Dogwood Relays.

Tolson also has yet another goal: "He hopes to close out his collegiate career as an outdoor All-American," coaches say. "His leadership and ability will be invaluable to the distance corps."

Robertson is named MVP in Wolverine 'A' Conference

Pollis Robertson, who led Wayne Memorial to a record-shattering 22-2 won-lost season and an unprecedented undefeated Wolverine A Conference campaign, was named last week as the conference's Most Valuable Player.

The 6-6 senior center, who averaged more than 20-plus points and 10 rebounds per game, also has been noted for All-American high school consideration.

"He is an excellent all-around player," said Wayne Coach Chuck Henry who had earlier in the season revealed that Robertson would continue his basketball career at the University of Wisconsin.

Joining Robertson on the all-conference First Team is teammate Howard Flowers, a 6-2 senior forward, who has contributed much to the success of the Zebras.

Wayne and Belleville also placed one player each on the Second Team. Chris Grantham, Belleville's sharpshooting 5-8 sophomore, and Spencer Williams, Wayne's 5-9 junior guard, were also among those honored by the coaches.

regional playoffs at River Rouge. Hamtramck, paced by Bill Moore and Eric Davis, worked its way to a 15-11 first quarter lead before the Bulldogs, partially on the strength of Walker's seven points, managed to tie the score 27-all at halftime.

The Dearborn Heights cagers ripped off the first three baskets of the three period and outscored their rivals 20-13 to grab a 47-40 margin after three and enjoyed a 10-point cushion most of the final period.

Walker's 21 points stood up at the game's high, while Carreathers added 14. Galbraith scored 10 for the champs. Moore finished with 17 and Davis and Al Reid split 24 for the losers.

"We had just come off a real tough game with Inkster," said Ayler, "and we were flat for this one. I thought it was a good game to watch, and we won it because we created some opportunities."

Robichaud defeated Inkster (20-2) for the Class B district title after losing to their natural rivals twice during the Suburban Athletic Conference campaign.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Terry Mills

One big reason why Romulus had a record 19-4 won-lost basketball season is Terry Mills who amassed 596 points during the 1984-85 campaign to break his uncle, Nate Davis's single season scoring record. And Mills, a 6-9 junior, will be around next year to help Coach Al Wilkerson and the Eagles continue their drive for a Class A state championship.

Stevie Glenn

Every time Stevie Glenn is on the hardwood one can depend on him giving 100 percent effort. Glenn has been one of the spark plugs in the Romulus basketball machine that has chalked up a 19-4 record. Glenn also will be back a year from now to pick up where the Eagles left off — driving toward a state title.

Canines beef up security

The two newest members of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport security detail may be young in comparison to the cohorts, but Wayne County Executive William Lucas believes they may be the most dependable and reliable members of the force.

Baba, a 2½-year-old German Shepherd, and Bronzee, a deep bronze 3-year-old Labrador, are teamed with Wayne County Sheriff's Deputies Sally R. Wright and Bruce E. Preston to comprise Metro's 24-hour-on-call bomb squad.

Lucas explained: "All four K-9 Unit members recently completed the U.S. Air Force Patrol and Explosive Detection Training Course at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. They are as professional and expert as any explosive detection unit you will find anywhere."

Wright, Baba, Preston and Bronzee successfully completed three months of intensive training to become a finely tuned explosive detection team. In addition, the dogs live at home with the deputies to strengthen the bonds of trust and loyalty.

"It's important to have faith in your partner's ability, and believe me, these dogs are fantastic at their jobs," Wright said.

The deputy dogs win a considerable amount of affection, petting and smiles from children and other travellers who pass through the airport's terminals daily, as the teams make their routine, random patrols.

"Unlike protection dogs, which are trained to attack and defend on command, our detection dogs are polite and friendly," said Wright.

"Once they've detected something in luggage, a paper bag, a locker or whatever, they'll sit. They won't move until given a command," said Lt. Graham McNamee, in charge of the special K-9 unit.

"We hope we'll never be exposed to the real thing," said Airport Security Chief Lt. Thomas Harrett. "But if it happens, we are prepared to safely handle the situation."

Oakwood's Canton Center seeks volunteers

Whether exploring health careers, meeting friends or simply experiencing the good feeling that comes from helping others, hospital volunteers may find themselves reaping as many benefits as they sow, Oakwood Hospital's Canton Center staff members report.

The center, a primary care medical facility serving citizens in the Plymouth-Canton area, will this spring be recruiting new volunteers to aid in a variety of patient services.

"Our volunteers are trained to conduct cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) classes, perform blood pressure check-ups, instruct baby-sitting classes, file medical records, and assist in the emergency room," said Christine McCuen, director of Volunteer Services. "They assist the medical staff with paper work and escort patients to examining rooms, X-ray, and the pharmacy." Twenty-nine Guild members serve at the Canton Center.

Other activities in which volunteers participate include performing hostess functions for such programs as "Weight No More," "Stop Smoking," and diabetes education, she said.

"Recently, we've added a telephone call follow-up service at the center," said Joan Petroske, R.N., clinical manager. "Guild volunteers call patients at home as a reminder of appointments."

Fund raising is another Guild activity. "Every organization needs something that isn't in the budget and when Guild members see needs, we want to help out," said Millie Fawcett, chairwoman.

"We have an annual rummage sale, a Christmas bazaar, and a monthly raffle," she added. "The proceeds of these events and activities have contributed to the purchase of audio-visual equipment, a portable blood pressure cuff, and CPR instruction equipment."

Volunteers also participate every year in the annual "Project Health-O-Rama," in which free health tests are offered to the community which are designed to detect disease during the initial stages of development, enabling early treatment and aiding in the prevention of illness. This year the tests will be offered from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, March 18 and 19, at the Starkweather Community Education Center, 550 Holbrook, in Plymouth.

"Last year we tested approx-dence, while still others feel a sense of duty and responsibility to pay back assistance or help they may have received in the past," she explained, adding that many people consider volunteer work as a way of contributing to society.

The center, which opened its doors to accept patients in October 1981, provides citizens with a variety of medical services including family practice, obstetrics/gynecology, internal medicine, and orthopedics.

In addition, it provides radiology, laboratory, pharmacy, and speech pathology services, and community health education programs.

"Persons who are interested in volunteer service are welcome to call or stop at any time during regular working hours and I, or another member of the staff, will be happy to answer questions," Petroske said. For more information, call 459-7030.

imately 500 people with the help of between 15 and 20 volunteers who assisted the Oakwood medical staff in this project," Petroske said.

Volunteering at a health care institution offers opportunities to persons who are exploring certain careers in health care, Petroske noted. First-hand observations can make decisions easier.

Roggie Dannenberger weds Lance Brady

The Allen Park Presbyterian Church was decorated in the Christmas spirit for the Dec. 7 nuptial of Roggie Rena Dannenberger of Allen Park and Lance L. Brady of Belleville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dannenberger of Allen Park, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brady of Belleville.

Christmas trees with gold and silver ornaments, an altar centerpiece of red and yellow roses, accented with greenery, dedicated to the bride's grandfather, the late Kenneth E. Rogers Sr., and a wedding candle provided the setting for the double-ring, candlelight service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an elegant white peau de soie satin and imported alencon silk lace gown for the ceremony. The fitted bodice was accented by a dropped waistline and Queen Anne neckline. The fingertip embroidered sleeves were puffed at the shoulder. The full, hooped skirt had satin stitch embroidery at the hemline and fell into a cathedral-length train.

Her floor-length and fingertip veils were accented with alencon lace and held in place by a small lace cap. Her nosegay bouquet in a cascade style was made up of red, yellow and white roses and attached to its lace was an heirloom embroidered cotton and lace handkerchief, given to the bride by her mother and which had been given to the latter by her grandmother.

The bride asked her sister, Robbie Dannenberger of Allen Park, to serve as her honor attendant. She wore a floor-length hooped gown of burgandy satin and carried a silk nosegay of burgandy and pink roses and carnations.

The groom asked his best friend, Terry J. Tinsley of Pincney, to perform the duties of best man. The ushers were David Slaven of Allen Park, uncle of the bride, and Craig Lee of Allen Park, friend of the groom.

Mrs. Dannenberger wore a long-sleeved, streetlength lavender silk dress, accented with beaded pearls on the bodice. Her corsage was of lavender silk roses, accented with baby's breath and white lace ribbon.

Mrs. Brady chose a long-sleeved streetlength pink silk dress and wore a corsage of pink silk roses, accented with baby's breath and white lace ribbon.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Kenneth E. Rogers of Harbor Heights, Florida, and the bride's uncle, Kenneth Rogers Jr., of Port Charlotte, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Lance Brady

A reception for the newlyweds and their 100 guests was held at the Metro Airport Holiday Inn in Romulus.

2 teens get TV spots

Brad Martin of Wayne and Michael Molenda of Romulus have been selected to appear in television commercials marking McDonald's 30th anniversary. They are among 38 McDonald's restaurant employees chosen from across the nation to have a part in the commercials, which are set to air in April. Martin and Molenda each are 16 years of age and are employed at the McDonald's located at 40241 Michigan Ave. in Canton. "I didn't think I had a chance," remarked Molenda, a junior at Romulus High School, commenting on his selection. "I've hardly ever won anything."

A drive-thru counter person at the restaurant, Molenda is a member of the National Honor Society and the Jazz Band at Romulus High.

Martin, a junior at Wayne Memorial High School, works the grill at McDonald's and has been with the restaurant for nine months. He expressed disbelief at being selected but admitted that he is "real excited about going to L.A."

Martin was described by his store manager as "a very extroverted young man with a good sense of humor ... someone who truly enjoys life."

Martin and Molenda were scheduled to fly to California earlier this month for a session before the television cameras.

Oscar party to feature screenings

There will be a definite Wayne Memorial flavor to a preview screening of the Academy Award nominees for Best Documentary Short Subject, set at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Thompson Home on the campus of Wayne State University, 119 West Hancock across from the Hilberry Theatre.

Among the hosts for the screening will be Linda Chapman, a teacher at Wayne Memorial, who along with Pam LeBlanc and Freddi Stevens produced the film "See What I Say," which was nominated for an Academy Award in the short subject category in 1982. The film, produced through Meridian Films, a non-profit organization, won eight national and international awards.

Tickets for the film party, which will include the screening of six documentary films and a champagne and hors d'oeuvres reception, are priced at $15 and are available by calling 287-3104. A number of Wayne Memorial students will attend the party.

Meridian Films provides a variety of services to independent and student filmmakers, including access to a comprehensive library, consultation services and a speakers' bureau.

Jerry Evanski of Belleville has become something of a celebrity as a result of his organization of a video greeting card project at Michigan State University. His project has attracted media attention and a growing business.

Touch of Rome comes to Westland

The Booster Club of the instrumental music department at John Glenn High School will present "A Touch of Rome II," its second annual dinner dance, from 7 p.m. to midnight Saturday, March 30 at St. Richard's Catholic Church Hall, 35637 Cherry Hill, Westland.

Dinner will be served from 7 to 8 p.m. with the music provided by the John Glenn Orchestra. The John Glenn Jazz Ensemble will provide the dance music.

Dinner will consist of pasta, salad, bread and butter, dessert, coffee, tea or milk. Beer, wine and pop will be available at a cash bar.

Tickets, priced at $7.50 for adults and $5 for senior citizens and students, will be available at the door. Proceeds will be used for the instrumental music program at John Glenn.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Band Director Norm Logan at 595-2300.

Greetings! Belleville student offers video cards

By ANDREA CURTIS ROTHNEY
Special to ANP

Jerry Evanski, a 1981 Belleville High School graduate, has attracted a PM Magazine film spot, an interview with the British Broadcasting Corp. and nationwide press coverage as a result of a video greeting card project he organized at Michigan State University.

Evanski, 22, a senior in instrumental music education at MSU, is the youngest of Robert and Gertrude Evanski's 10 children.

His five-to-10 minute greetings, recorded on a video cassette, represent a new approach to the fast-growing video greeting-card trend.

"I guess we were just in the right place at the right time with the right idea," Evanski said.

While other video cards feature pre-recorded scenes followed by short personal messages, Evanski said his Timeless Video Greeting Cards incorporate a client's ideas into a script and feature the sender of the greeting.

"They were very personal, very individualized, which is just what I was after," said Evanski. "Nobody ever dreamed it was going to go this far and get all the publicity."

Evanski said he and other members of music fraternity Phi Mu Alpha worked on the project as a fundraiser for the MSU music department.

Multivision Video Productions Inc. in Canton, a company begun last year by Evanski and his brother Steve, will become permanent home to Timeless Video Greeting Cards.

Now that the original project is finished, Evanski said he is busy with his studies and is planning a video postcard project for spring break greetings to be sent from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Evanski said he is also considering setting up taping locations at shopping malls and card shops during holiday seasons.

"It's hard to say where it will stop," said Evanski who expects videos to become the greeting cards of the future. "Hopefully I'll be in the middle of it."

In addition to the hours put in on the four-week video project at MSU, Evanski also directs three church handbell choirs and the MSU handbell choir, works as a recording engineer for the MSU music department and is carrying 20 credit hours this term at MSU.

All entries to the poetry reading will be considered for publication in the fall issue of "The MacGuffin," the college's literary magazine.

CANCELLATIONS AND CORRECTIONS

Read your ad carefully the first time it appears, and report any errors before the next edition. This will be the only proof you will receive. Errors should be reported immediately, as Associated Newspapers, Inc. can be responsible for the first incorrect insertion only. NO CASH REFUNDS WILL BE MADE.

PUBLICATION POLICY

The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject and properly classify advertising submitted for publication. Publisher shall not be held liable for typographical errors except to the extent of the cost of first insertion and then only for that portion of ad that may have been rendered valueless by such error. Advertisers are advised to check their ad immediately after it appears in the paper and report at once any error found. Claims for error adjustment must be made immediately after ad is published.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD

1. IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the item or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, it's better to start your advertisement with the location.
2. BE CLEAR. Readers react most quickly and favorably when precise, complete or definite information. One of the most important considerations of any advertisement is to include the price.
3. MAKE IT EASY for the reader to reach you. ALWAYS INSERT your telephone number or your name and address if you do not have regular hours, state a preferred time to have prospects contact you.
4. PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good classified ad.
5. CLASSIFIED READERS are already interested in buying used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are in the market to buy. Give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.
6. CLASSIFIED ADS THAT FAIL do not get through a lack of readability, but because they are often quickly worded and do not contain enough information to prompt action.

Nature programs

Two nature programs will be held at the Nature Center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock. "Our Living Soil", a National Wildlife Week program with a nature walk and some fun indoor activities to investigate a most important natural resource - soil - will be held at the Nature Center on Saturday and Sunday, March 23 and Sunday, March 30, at 2 p.m. The activities include reading the landscape to find out how plant and animal life depend upon different soils, inside use of a microscope to help see the creatures that inhabit the soil. "Small Wonders", a focus on tiny creatures barely visible to the unaided eye in ponds, will be held on Sunday, March 24, at 2 p.m. The use of the nature center's microscopes will help identify these creatures -- such as cyclops, planaria, midge and other minute animals -- in this program, which uses water samples from local ponds and streams. These programs are free and advance registration is required. For information or registration contact the Nature Center at Oakwoods Metropark 1-800-552-6772 (toll-free). A vehicle entry permit is required.

Youth award

High school students in Wayne County have an opportu-ity to win cash prizes and a job upon graduation in the first-of-its-kind Wayne County Probate Judges Youth Award contest. The contest is just another way to show confidence in today's youth and to stress the importance of good habits learned in high school. Each high school is invited to select one senior student who excels in good business skills (with emphasis on typing), attitude and attendance, neat appearance and willingness to do better than average work. These candidates will compete in a test under the auspices of the Wayne County Intermediate School District with all candidates receiving a certificate of merit for competing. First prize will be $100 cash and the offer of a full-time clerical typist position with the Wayne County Probate Court. Second and third prizes will be $50 and $25, respectively. (Should the first-place winner decline the job, it will go to the second-place winner, and so on.) Anyone wishing Fournier at the additional information can call Peter J. Wayne County Juvenile Court, 577-9463.
